

BENNETT GIVEN DOUBLE SENTENCE

Pleads Guilty in Court to Grand Larceny and Transporting and Receiving Liquor

GETS 1 TO 14 YEARS IN PRISON

Also Sentenced to Six Months in State Penal Farm and Fined $100 and Costs

William Bennett, age 31 was given a double sentence in circuit court when he entered a plea of guilty to two charges against him, one being for grand larceny, and the other for transportation and receiving liquor.

The first charge brought a fine of $5 and costs by Judge Sparks and a sentence of from one to 14 years at the state prison, and the latter charge carried a fine of $100 and costs and a six months sentence at the state farm.

Bennett was arrested late Friday afternoon at the home of Silverton Miller, 219 West Sixth street, when police officers conducted a raid, and found the two men in the house, and 21 gallons of moonshine liquor hidden beneath the bed, under a trap door.

Miller is also in jail, and will stand trial. His case has been set for Thursday of this week. He is held on a charge of transporting liquor. Bennett was arrested several weeks ago with Harry Rainey and they were jointly charged with conspiracy and larceny, being implicated in the theft of tires and automobile accessories from Elsbury Pea. Rainey is serving his term on the larceny charge, but Bennett had never been tried and for three weeks was on bond.

After his arrest in the liquor episode at the Miller home, he was arraigned on both charges, and entered a plea of guilty to each, with the first count in the conspiracy affidavit being nollied, and the sentence being given to him on the larceny count.

Officers are also holding the Ford coupe belonging to Bennett, which was confiscated in front of the Miller home, and the disposition of it will be considered later.

JURY VERDICT IS FOR FINE OF $1 AND COSTS

Carl Murphy Found Guilty When Tried on Charge of Selling Mortgaged Property

DIVORCE COMPLAINT FILED

A jury today in the circuit court heard the case of the State against Carl Murphy, charged with selling mortgaged property, and after the brief evidence was presented, a verdict was returned, finding the defendant $1 and costs. The prosecuting witness was the American Security company, who alleged that the defendant sold a straw baler that was mortgaged.

The jury will report Wednesday to hear the state case against Raymond Mofford, charged with larceny. Two complaints were filed today in the circuit court, one a divorce suit and the other a complaint for partition of real estate.

In the divorce action Blanche Riley is plaintiff and Earl B. Riley, defendant. The complaint alleges that they were married December 13, 1914 and separated November 13, 1919, at which time he is charged with abandoning her, and has since failed to provide or live with her. In the complaint for partition, Fred Hughes is plaintiff and Anna Boon, and others, defendants, the action being to have the court partition real estate involved in the estate of Albert Phillips, deceased.

AUTO DRIVER KILLS GIRL

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 5—Leonard Vance, 21, driver of an auto which struck and killed Harlan Collis, 18, Saturday night, was at liberty on his own recognizance today while Coroner Sells conducted a thorough investigation of the accident.

REFLECTION FOOLS PEOPLE

Thought to be Fire and Department is Called Sunday

During the brief time that the sun came out Sunday afternoon, the bright reflection through an upstairs window, was the cause for a fire alarm to the residence of Ed Pitman 528 North Morgan street. When the firemen arrived, the sun went behind a cloud, and the discovery was then made that the excitement was caused from the sun.

At 12:15 this afternoon, the awning in front of the Ed Tynes tailor shop, 218 North Main street, caught fire, probably from a discarded cigarette from an upstairs window, and the firemen were called. A bucket of water from a window put out the blaze and no loss resulted.

VANDALS BREAK WINDOW GLASS

Damage at Six Places Reported to Police Early Sunday, But Guilty Ones Escape

MOTIVE IS NOT UNDERSTOOD

Bloodhounds From Newcastles Track Vandals to Memorial Boulevard, Losing it at Main Street

Vandals with a mania for breaking out window glasses, started a campaign early Sunday morning, shortly after midnight, and losses at six places were reported to police, and a mystery surrounds the unexplained disturbance.

An effort to trace the vandals by means of blood hounds was made Sunday afternoon, but on account of the vast amount of territory covered by the persons who did the work, the tracks were lost near Main street and Memorial boulevard, when an automobile was probably boarded by the vandals.

No motive could be assigned by police for breaking the glass windows, other than to do damage to property and to frighten the occupants. Some persons are of the belief that the persons or persons were intoxicated.

The first report came into police headquarters about 12:15 Sunday morning from the home of Claude Parrish, 327 West Fifth street, who reported that a large window was smashed when someone tossed an automobile crank into the glass pane.

The next report came in shortly afterwards from the home of Mrs. Peter Hollowell, 401 North Harrison street. At this residence a large boulder was thrown into the window, breaking the glass with a loud crash. No other reports were received until after daylight, when the discovery was made at the other places.

At the Garage of the Rush County Mills in West Third street three windows were smashed. The prowlers then went to the office of the Nickel Plate railroad station, just west of the Rush County Mills, and all three glass windows in the telegraphers office were smashed, and the window casing in one of them was raised.

Whether the vandals were inside of the office was not learned, although nothing was found to be disturbed when the office was opened this morning.

Then the office at the Capitol Lumber company, just west of the depot, had three large windows smashed. Several windows at the Hoosier Corn Turner factory in West Second street, were broken, and this was not discovered until this morning.

Blood hounds belonging to Sheriff Otis Bradway of Newcastle were brought here, and they took up the scent from place to place, indicating that the same person committed all six window smashings. The dogs covered a great deal of territory between places, which indicated that the person was roaming at large, with no definite place in view.

After the dogs were brought to the residence of Mrs. Hollowell, they took up the scent and headed north, going through the park, and up the boulevard to a place near Main street, where indications pointed to a transfer to an automobile, and then all traces were lost.

It also is probable that the per-

ELIJAH A. KIRKPATRICK DIES NEAR HENDERSON

Prominent Farmer of Posey Township Expires at His Home Shortly Before Noon Today

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY AT 1:30

Elijah A. Kirkpatrick, age 75 years, a prominent farmer of Posey township, died shortly before noon today at his home southwest of Henderson, death resulting from an illness of several weeks.

The deceased was born in Jackson township, May 15, 1849, and was a farmer by occupation. He was educated at the Osborne school and remained at home until his marriage in 1870, when he began farming for himself. His first wife and their two sons, both preceded him in death.

He was married again in 1891 to Angie Cox, who with three children survive. The children are Martha, Stella and Angie. Politically the deceased was a prominent democrat. He also was a member of the Christian church. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the late residence and burial will be made in Hannigan cemetery.

PROGRAM TO BEGIN AT 7:30

Harold McClanahan to Play at Station WEAH, New York, Tonight

Harold McClanahan, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. R. McClanahan, will broadcast a piano concert tonight from station WEAH, New York City, where the former local man is now employed, and Rushville radio audiences are invited to listen between 8:30 and 8:50 eastern standard time, or commencing at 7:30 local time.

Rush county radio fans heard a sermon Sunday night broadcasted from KOA, Denver, Col., in which the message was delivered by the Rev. Loren Edwards, formerly of Milroy, and who is now pastor at the Trinity Methodist church in Denver. The former Milroy minister notified his friends in this county last week that he would preach, and at the beginning of his sermon last night, he extended greetings to his friends back in Indiana.

DEGREE PRACTICE

The Red Men will hold their regular meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 at which time degree practice will be held.

APPOINTMENT UP TO COUNTY BOARD

Selection of County Agent One Question Before Township Trustees at Monthly Meeting

OTHER MATTERS TO COME UP

Contract For Circulating Library to be Considered and May be Signed by Board

The first meeting of the year for the Rush County Board of education was being held this afternoon in the office of B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent, and among the mass of important business to come before them was the appointment of a county agent.

Other business mapped out for the trustees today was the annual reports to be heard from Mr. Farthing, as superintendent and also Mrs. Farthing as county attendance officer. Miss Alice Piersol, county music supervisor also was to make a report on the progress of her work since taking charge of music last September.

The board also was to elect officers for the ensuing year, including the selection of a secretary. The appointment of a county agent is made by the twelve township trustees, and it was regarded that the reappointment of H. D. VanMatre would be made.

The farm bureau has prepared a request that was to be filed with the board asking that the appointment of Mr. VanMatre be made on a two year basis, instead of the annual contract form that has been followed in the past.

Several other matters of a routine nature of business was to come up at the meeting this afternoon, and it was doubtful whether all of the reports could be made, and those that are not heard today, will be deferred until the February session of the board.

The contract for the circulating county library was to be read and gone over this afternoon by the board, and this was expected to take considerable time. It is believed that the contract will be approved and negotiations made to bring the circulating library into the county.

M'KENNA RESIGNS

Washington, Jan. 5—Chief Justice Taft of the U. S. supreme court today announced that associate Justice McKenna had presented his resignation to Pres. Coolidge and that it had been accepted.

HAWKINS, UNABLE TO GIVE BOND, IS STILL IN JAIL

Former Head of Defunct Mortgage Co., Prepares to Fight Attempts to Remove him to Indianapolis

ELLIOTT GOES TO DAYTON, O.

(By United Press)

Dayton, O., Jan. 5—Morton Hawkins, former president of the defunct Hawkins Mortgage Co., of Portland, Ind., who is under indictment in federal court in Indianapolis on charges of fraudulent use of the mails, was still in jail here today in default of $20,000 bond.

Hawkins was confident that bond would be provided by the middle of the week. His mother returned to Portland to make efforts to raise the bond. Meanwhile, Fred Warner, his attorney, prepared to fight attempts of the government to remove Hawkins to Indianapolis.

Warner will file objections tomorrow to Hawkins' removal. The objections will be based on four legal technicalities.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5—Homer Elliott, United States district attorney, and John Welborn, postoffice inspector, went to Dayton, O., today, where Morton Hawkins, former president of the Hawkins Mortgage Co., is in jail awaiting return to Indianapolis.

Elliott said he and Welborn were "going to look the situation over and probably confer with Andrew Liddings, United States commissioner, regarding return of Hawkins."

Liddings will hold a hearing next Monday on the removal proceedings.

MORE THAN LAST TWO YEARS

Sheriff Hunt's Report Shows 122 Prisoners in Jail Last Year

There were more prisoners in the Rush county jail last year, than any of the two former years since Sidney L. Hunt has been sheriff, according to the report of Mr. Hunt.

The list of prisoners last year was 122 persons. In 1923 he had a total of 109 and in 1922 his prison records show 118 persons.

The prison record is similar to a hotel register, in which the prisoners form the list when they have been in jail long enough to eat a meal. Prisoners who are placed in jail for only a few hours, are not entered as the sheriff obtains his fee for boarding prisoners, and it is upon this basis that the record is obtained.

REAL ESTATE TO BE REASSESSED

State Tax Board Orders Reappraisal in Indiana For This Year

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5—All real estate in Indiana will be reappraised in 1925 under the present tax law, which gives the state tax board that power, it was announced by the board today.

The reappraisal would have come in 1926, which the same law makes the base year for reappraisal and provides for new appraisals every four years.

The state board, at the suggestion of the county assessors, agreed to order a reappraisal this year of all real estate. If the coming legislature amends the law, 1925 will be made the base year and there will be an appraisal every four years.

Gov. Branch and Ed. Jackson, governor-elect, both agreed to ask the legislature to make the change.

WEEK OF PRAYER TO OPEN TONIGHT

First Service Will be Held at First Presbyterian Church, With Sermon by E. G. McKibben

Rushville Churches Report Fine Interest and Addition of Many New Members During Day

Week of Prayer services, observed annually with union meetings by Rushville churches, will open tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church and the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. E. G. McKibben, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. The theme will be "Thanksgiving and Repentance."

"Let us give thanks for the revelation during another year that there is One who is within and above all the years, the same Lord who is rich in mercy to all who call upon him," says an announcement of the services from the Rushville Ministerial association. "Let us remember in penitence our lack of that faith which is bold to claim the resources of Christ Jesus."

On Tuesday night the services will be held at the same hour at the First Baptist church and the topic will be "The Church Universal." The Rev. H. W. Hargett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, will be the leader.

If the attendance at the churches Sunday is an omen for the year, they have reason to be encouraged according to reports received from pastors today.

There was a large attendance at the communion service in the First Presbyterian church. Nine persons were added to the membership, six of them being adults. Three young girls were baptized.

The following officers were elected in the Sunday school: Superintendent, Dr. D. C. McCully; assistant and chorister, B. O. Simpson; secretary, Miss Helen Pierson; treasurer, Lon Link; secretary of literature, Miss Grace Spencer; pianist, Miss Carolyn Wilson.

In the morning service and preceding the communion the pastor read for his text, Jer. 31:3, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee."

He said in part: "How rich we are in friends. The infinite, undying, imperishable love of God is mine. His love is older than the mountains, higher than the heavens, deeper than the sea and more powerful than sin that would tear us away from Him. That love will not let me go but lavishes its tender affections upon me, pleads with me, woos me, rebukes me, corrects me, and sends His only Son who died for me."

"The purpose of that love is to lift me up to the higher and better things of life. Beneath us is the everlasting arm of God, seeking to lift us up into the clearer better life of fellowship with him."

"Jesus came to earth to restore the image of God in us, which had been lost because of sin. He came with the knowledge that the image was there though concealed with sin. To have his life touch our life

COUNTY CORN SHOW READY FOR OPENING

First Floor of Court House Hive of Industry in Preparation for Exhibit Starting Tuesday

Ladies Department and Girls' Club Display Also Put in Place—Results of Corn Judging Event

The complete premium list and rules for the corn show and Ladies department and Girls' Club events, opening at the court house Tuesday, will be found today on Page 2.

The well known hive of industry was a tame affair compared with the first floor of the court house, this morning, where everything was astir preparing for the fourth annual Rush County Corn Show which will open Tuesday and continue until Thursday evening.

Benches were being arranged in the court house assembly room for the display of 250 ears of corn, that is expected for the show, and arrangements were being made for the exhibit of the Ladies department and Girls' Club entries in the county agent's office.

A preliminary event to the corn show was held Saturday when boys of the county competed in the corn judging contest, in which seventeen awards were made. The contest was in charge of Paul Imel, vocational teacher of Walker township.

The corn show rules provide that the corn shall all be in place by noon Tuesday, at which time the judging will begin. C. E. Troyer of LaFayette, Wabash county, former national corn king, will act as judge. He judged the corn in the show here two years ago, the last one held in this county. Mr. Troyer will go from here to Columbus, Ind., where he will speak at a corn meeting Friday.

Miss Lella Gaddis of Purdue university will act as judge in the Ladies department and Girls' Club contest. She will also hold a conference with representative women of each township Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock in the county agent's office to outline a program for the year.

Miss Gaddis will speak at the Graham Annex auditorium Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, following the first showing of "Bob Farnum's Ton Litter," a motion picture which was produced in this county. On Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock there will be an entertainment at the auditorium, at which the motion picture will again be shown, and on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, Paul Benson of Newcastle will speak. His subject will be, "Watchman, What of The Night?"

A soy bean display was being arranged in the corridor on the first floor of the court house this morning by Hugh Archey of Orange township, Jess Henley of Ripley township and Claude Sears of Center township with "Grow More Soy Beans in Indiana" as the central theme. A chart is included in the display showing that soybeans may be grown profitably for hay, grain, hogging off and seed.

Herschel VanMatre, county agent asserted that the show this year would demonstrate that the surface was barely being scratched, and that there are great possibilities in developing the display. He expressed the belief that the corn show could be held before the holidays, so that the school boys and girls of the county would have a larger part in it. They have been out of touch with their teachers during the vacation and have lost some of their enthusiasm for the show.

This was one reason for the number of contestants in the corn judging contest being smaller than anticipated. Many of the boys were of such an age that they could not come to Rushville alone, and their parents did not have time to bring them. Walker township was the only one well represented, and this was due to the fact that Mr. Imel arranged for the school truck to bring the boys to Rushville.

Before the contest began, all of the boys were given instructions in

Controversy in Congress Over Abolishing Board, Will Cause Other Matters to Drop

MANY BILLS ARE PENDING

Congress Will Quit March 4, and Unless More Action is Obtained Much Will go Unfinished

By WILLIAM J. McEVROY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 5—With House leaders and supporters of the Howell-Barkley bill, abolishing the Railroad Labor Board, determined to wage a finished fight over enactment of the measure, a mass of legislation of national scope and sectional interest is destined to certain death.

Unless either side retires from its position, more than 100 bills, many of which are "pet" measures of various Congressmen, will die with the fall of Speaker Gillett's gavel at noon March 4.

The railroad bill, under its peculiar parliamentary status, can only come before the House on the first and third Mondays of each month, the same days designated for consideration of calendar bills. Its present position is at the head of this calendar and the announcement of opponent of the bill to employ every existing parliamentary maneuver to defeat its passage, indicates that remaining bills on the calendar will not be reached this session. Only five calendar days remain between now and March 4.

In the pile of bills which cannot be considered by the House until the Howell-Barkley bill is disposed of are the following:

To prevent the oil pollution of navigable rivers.

To punish the unlawful transmission in interstate commerce or through the mails of gambling machines, fraudulent devices, pistols and revolvers.

To authorize appropriations for the construction of hangars and maintenance of flying fields for the use of the air-mail service of the Post Office Department.

To authorize the Postmaster-General to continue the existing government owned and operated air mail service.

To encourage commercial aviation and to authorize the Postmaster-General to contract for air-mail service.

To promote peace and to equalize the burdens and to minimize the profits of war.

To authorize an appropriation for the Secretary of Agriculture to purchase and distribute valuable seeds.

To purchase the Oldroyd collection of Lincoln relics, the greatest in number and most important in value of any single collection in existence.

To authorize the erection of a monument here to symbolize the game of baseball.

To establish an Alaska game commission to protect game animals, land fur-bearing animals and birds in Alaska.

To enlarge the Stanislaus National Forest, California, the Umatilla, Wallowa and Whitman National Forests, Oregon, the Nevada National Forest.

To provide for the establishment of a probation system in United States courts.

To investigate the feasibility of establishing a national military park in Kansas City, Mo., commemorative of the Battle of Westport, October 23, 1864.

A number of bills granting the dissent of Congress to various cities and towns throughout the country to construct and operate bridges and dams also are awaiting their turn on the calendar.

HOGS TOP MARKET

Barney White of Rushville, R. R. 2, shipped a load of hogs to Cincinnati one day last week which sold ten cents higher than any hogs sold on that market during the past year and which were responsible for the Cincinnati market advancing ten cents that day. They were Hampshires and the shipment consisted of sixty-two head.

Washington—The year's receipts are expected to put the postoffice here in the first class rank. The goal of $40,000 necessary for the promotion has been reached.

Huntington—Harmon McEnderfer owns a wash tub which has been used by him for 54 years.

The First Baptist church will have a penny supper at the church Wednesday, January 14.

Premium List and Rules for Rush County
Corn Show Here January 6-7-8

Rules

- 1—No exhibitor will be allowed to make more than one entry in any one class.
- 2—Every exhibit must have been grown on land owned or operated by the exhibitor in 1924, and in township classes exhibits must be entered in townships where grown.
- 3—Exhibitors who have previously won first prize on a 10-ear sample in the county class will not be eligible to compete in township classes, but will be admitted to county classes.
- 4—All exhibits must be in the show room not later than 12:00, noon, Tuesday, January 6th, 1925, and must remain in the show room until 3:00 p. m. Thursday, January 8th.
- 5—All exhibits entered in the township or junior classes shall automatically compete in next-highest classes.
- 6—All exhibits shall remain the property of the exhibitor.
- 7—Persons showing in junior classes must be enrolled in county schools.
- 8—The committee in charge reserves the right to make such other rules as may be necessary to serve to the best interests of all.

Premium List

This is the Fourth Annual Rush County Corn Show, and we predict that it will be the largest and most successful exhibit of corn yet held in the county. This time, a professional class has been eliminated from the premium list, and it is hoped that this will attract more exhibitors from our own county, who would like to try their metal against the other corn growers of our county. The primary purpose of the Rush County Corn Show is educational, and we feel it will give our growers an opportunity to bring their corn up to a higher and truer type.

The Senior and Junior Classes have been enlarged this year for the purpose of stimulating among all the folks of the county more interest in good corn. We predict that the silver cup and honor banners offered for sweepstakes in all classes will serve as an added inducement to the corn growers of the county.

BILL TO "PULL TEETH IN" PRESENT "BLUE SKY" LAW

Proposed Measure Will Open Way For Legitimate Business Concerns to Sell Stock in State

ELIMINATES "RED TAPE"

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5.—The drawing up of a bill to "put teeth in" the present "blue sky" law has been completed today for presentation to the state legislature.

It was drawn up by a committee composed of representatives of state bankers and state securities associations.

According to W. H. Arnett, secretary of the Kokomo Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the committee, the proposed bill will open the way for legitimate business concerns to sell their stock in Indiana by eliminating the greater portion of "red tape" now required of companies of other states to qualify in Indiana, and will serve to stop to operation of uncertain concerns.

It will also provide more ways for the investor to investigate to stock on the market.

One of the chief objections to the present law, Arnett said, is that exempts all companies doing business in the state prior to 1920.

HOW BIG?

When you leave the theatre tonight it'll ring in your ears and you'll be asking yourself — "How Big?" — and you'll be thinking of Selina whom life couldn't down — and of how great she made the life that was here to live — So many things you'll think about and, maybe, when all is quiet and you're all alone you'll think again and then maybe you'll be saying to yourself — "How Big Am I?"

"That love reaches to eternity. When the eternal morn dawns we will hear him saying to the Redeemed, 'Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.' And as we listen we will hear him saying in tones of matchless affection, 'Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love, therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee.'"

Fatal Print?

Here's a horse's hoof-print and the man it may send to the gallows. The print was found on the road leading from the home of Warren A. Libby, 74-year-old Pueblo (Col.) rancher, who was murdered with an ax for the sake of his flock of 150 white chickens. The print is said to be the same as that of the horse owned by L. W. Smith, alleged convict, shown above. Smith is charged with the killing.

Always a Good Comedy

First Baptist church The Bible school was the largest in attendance in many months. In the closing exercise, "The Crusaders", a class of Junior boys and girls, presented a yard of pennies, amounting to five dollars, to the church building fund.

Following the administration of the ordinance of baptism the pastor spoke on "Building a Conquering Faith". At the close of the sermon the hand of fellowship was given to seventeen new members and they were formally welcomed into the church by the pastor. The observance of the communion service closed the morning worship.

At the evening service the pastor spoke on "A New Year's Resolution" and following the sermon one more person united with the church.

Beginning Thursday night, January 15 the "Church Night Programs," which were a special feature of last year's program, will be resumed. More detailed announcement of the program will be made later.

Salary Grabs

Dr. H. N. Sherwood, state superintendent of public instruction little more than a month, has been severely condemned in newspaper editorials that evidently reflect the sentiment of the people in the newspapers' circulation area, for increasing his salary budget $2,500 a year. He will find very few who will commend this action.

The office pays $5,000 a year.
That's what it paid before Dr. Sherwood was elected, a fact which the most certainly must have known
when he became a candidate. By seeking the office without announcing that he would ask for more money, he made a tacit agreement with the people to work for $5,000 a year.

For him, after being elected, to demand a fifty percent raise in pay,
before his employers, the people,
had even an opportunity to know what kind of an employee he was, is entirely out of reason. Certainly no private business would follow such a policy.

Laying aside all of these objections to an increase in the state superintendent's salary, it would still be objectionable because of the flood of salary grab bills in the legislature, for which it would open the

the way.

The legislature can never keep in tune with the spirit of the times by increasing the salaries of public officials. What taxpayers are demanding is lower taxes, not higher salaries for their public servants. Certainly a decrease in taxes can not be accomplished by paying more money to men elected to office.

The coming legislature is hoping to make a record for brevity and economy. It can leave behind such a mark if it promptly squelches attempts like these.

Flappers as Flippers

People who are gravely concerned about the flapper's future may be surprised to learn that she is more assiduously devoting herself to learning how to be a pancake flipper than she is given to the study of flapping.

A recent report of the United States bureau of education says
that the increase of student enrollment in home economic courses exceeds that of any other subject in the curriculum.

This ambition on the part of American girls to learn more about the scientific management of their homes is reflected in the great number of home service departments
with their lectures, cooking classes
and radio talks which have been installed during the past year by the gas companies of the United States.

Nearly 8,000 high schools in this country now give courses in home science, with a total enrollment of about 400,000 girls and 3,000
boys. This compares with only 1,350
schools ten years ago. The enrollment of girls taking these courses
in grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 of the elementary schools approximates 3-700,000. This means that there are well over 1,100,000 children of school age learning how to cook and keep house according to the most modern principles.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAYFrom Daily Republican
Wednesday, Jan. 5, 1909

The fidelity of a dumb grate probably saved the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reeves in West Second street early this morning, or a least saved them from a bad damage from the flames. As it was, they only had a rear fire and a very bad fire scare. Their stove was on the point of falling over when they discovered it, due to becoming too hot.

At a meeting of the members of the basketball squad of the Rushville high school in the Graham gymnasium yesterday evening after school, Raymond Wilson was elected captain of this year's team.

M. A. Blackledge, living east of this city, celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday today. He came to the Republican office to renew his subscription to the Republican.

Jesse Vance had a narrow escape from death about one o'clock
this afternoon and as it is he is suffering with a badly burned face.
The injuries were caused by the explosion of a can of wood alcohol.

That the new Democratic administration will probably reorganize
the police department seems certain.
The plan as discussed on the street is that the central fire station station will become the police headquarters.

Miss Leonora Wooden went to Connersville yesterday evening, where she attended the dance given by the Presidential Club. She is the guest of Miss Lois Charles.

Judge Will M. Sparks returned to Shelbyville this morning after spending yesterday evening with his family in North Main street.

Lon Stewart has gone to Paoli, Ind., to inspect a piece of land for which he recently traded.

Mr. and Mrs. Stockinger were the guests of the former's brother Prof.
W. A. Stoenkger and wife in North Perkins street Monday while enroute to their home in Nebraska from a visit with relatives near St.
Paul.

Tom McCoy, living west of the city, left today for a two week's visit in Kansas City, Mo., with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker of Bloomington, Ill., returned home Monday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Dagler.

A pitch-in supper was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B.
Thomas in North Morgan street last evening, honoring Mrs. Anna B. Cox who left today for Carlsbad, New Mexico, to spend the winter.

Mrs. Harry Lakin entertained at cards this afternoon at her home in North Main street a number of friends.

Miss Marie Clark gave a luncheon
Monday evening in honor of Miss Loraine Kelley, who will leave soon for Texas.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER*BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—They blame
this on Tom Marshall, the Hoosier who presided over the Senate during the two terms of Woodrow Wilson as president.
"Mr. Coolidge," Marshall is reported to have observed, "has certainly made a model president.
Stating it more exactly, I should say that he has been a president
without a vice. But—even he won't be able to keep that up forever. He'll have one after March
4. It'll be Charley Dawes."

SPEAKING of the Daweses, capital society is wondering whether the wife of the vice president-to-be is overly enthusiastic at the prospect of four or more "seasons" in Washington.
To put it plainly, Mrs. Dawes isn't fond of the fuss and feathers of Washington official society.
She has lived much in Washington; first when Dawes was comptroller of currency some 20-odd
years ago, later when he was director of the budget.

On both these occasions she was able to follow her preference of taking little or no part in the capital's social life, preferring to confine her interests and activities within a little circle of close friends.

As wife of a vice president, however, she inherits a sizable burden of social obligations that cannot easily be shifted. In fact it is suggested the social duties devolving upon Mrs. Dawes may be as irksome to her as the "figurehead" job of v. p. may be to her naturally voluble and aggressive husband.

REPRESENTATIVE WILLIAM
C. Hammer, a militant Democrat from Ashboro, N. C.,
threatened to live up to his name
last summer, while in an altercation with the frascible Thomas Lindsay Blanton of Abilene, Tex.

As stated at that time in the wire dispatches out of Washington, Hammer seized a chair and vowed to splinter it over Blanton's head.

In fact, he had the chair waving in the air and was advancing on the defiant Texan when fellow committee members interposed restraining hands and prevented the wreck either of a congressional cranium or of some committee-room furniture.

Now comes the sequel. Among the Christmas gifts received by Hammer last week was a sturdy,
straight-backed chair, so substantially built that it might be used as a bludgeon on even the thickest skull without injury to itself.

The sender remained anonymous.
But by applying Sherlock Holmes' deductions, Hammer's friends are convinced that the chair came from one of two sources.

Either from a fearful friend of Hammer, or—
From a hopeful enemy of Blan-
ton's.

TIME and change obliterate, one by one, many of the historically interesting spots of old Washington.

The old Surratt house, on H street, where John Wilkes Booth plotted Lincoln's assassination, is being remodeled and the first floor front will be made into store rooms!

WHILE Ambassador Jusserand's "swan song" as retiring ambassador seems to have been marred by some flat
notes, as witness all the discord stirred up by his statement on the final liquidation of the French debt
to the United States, Washington
will be the richer in real music, nevertheless, for his service here.

For one of his final acts before departing was to give a bird fountain, dedicated to "the birds of Piney Branch," through which section Jusserand loved to walk.

Saturday's Cross
Word Puzzle Answer*Strong Character Parts

Supporting the William Fox featured players, George O'Brien and Dorothy Mackail, in "The Painted Lady" coming to the Castle theatre today cute petite Lucille Ricksen and Margaret McWade have intensely human roles that give them a chance for some fine character acting.

Miss Ricksen plays Alice, the sweet innocent kid sister of the hero, ignorant of life, who in her big brother's absence at sea goes on her first fats night life party at a Barbary Coast roadhouse and falls a pathetic prey in the brutish fangs of the Sea Wolf.

Her terrible experience on the schooner "Vulture" her pitiful return home in the cold grey dawn to her old, anxious waiting mother, and her death from shock in her mother's arms are poignant drama poignantly enacted.

Margaret McWade, as the mother, fully lives up to her big chance in this scene, and the equally big one when her big sea-faring son returns home, and she expires in his arms as he vows to pursue unto the ends of the earth the Sea Wolf who ruined Alice.

Smashes Screen Tradition

Colleen Moore has smashed more screen precedents than any other actress in filmdom. Her latest smash is in her new First National picture,
"So Big" coming to the Princess theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

It has been motion picture tradition, almost, that if So-and-So made his first success while wearing beard, he must continue to wear a beard in order to hold his following.
And if What's-Her-Name gained popularity as a vampire, she is doomed to vampire roles, or else she loses public favor.

Colleen, however, has never played one role consistently, and yet
her popularity continues to grow enormously. While flapper roles have been her forte recently, she is now
in "So Big" portraying a tensely emotional role of three personalities.

The story is an adaptation from Edna Ferber's novel, based on life
in the old Dutch settlement near Chicago and is highly dramatic in its action.

Colleen's assumption of this new type, entirely foreign to anything
she has yet done, is said by critics
to establish her as one of the most versatile stars on stage or screen.

INDIANS EXPECT TO HAVE SAME LINE-UP

Manager Blames Well Known Jinx For His Team Finishing Next to Last Last Year

Theory That Lightning Never Strikes Twice in Same Place, Given by Speaker

Cleveland, Jan. 5—The Cleveland Indians expect to hit their stride next season.

Only minor changes will be made in the lineup, according to Manager Tris Speaker.

"Spoke" blames the well known jinx for his team finishing the 1924 American League race one step out of the cellar.

He believes he was "out jinxed" for a real chance at the pennant. His theory is that the lightning never strikes twice in the same place. Accordingly there will be few changes in the line up.

The Indians had an amazing record of casualties last season. George Uhle, premier hurler in the American league in 1923, hurt his arm in spring training and was never right all season. Jim Joe Edwards, young right handed flinger, received an injury early in the season and was of no value to the club thereafter. Every regular on the team except Joe Sewell, shortstop was out of the game at various times from one to five weeks.

Speaker dopes out the joint failure of Uhle and Edwards cost him thirty anticipated victories last season. Without the jinx the coming year he believes the teams will "hit its stride" and finish in a "favorable position."

However, if the aggregation fails to show after the season gets under way, the Indian leader is likely to make some radical changes as Speaker is not temperamentally a conservative stand-patter.

Among new players lined up is pitcher Speece, young right hander received from Washington in exchange for the veteran Stanley Coveleskie. Speece did little with Washington last year.

Joe Klugman, second baseman, drafted from Minneapolis is counted as a valuable reserve man in case Chick Fewster wobbles at second, or Walter Lutzke at third.

Klugman had previous big league experience with Brooklyn. Speaker's infield, on paper is considered expert. George Burns did not show so well at first last season. Bob Knez, recalled from Birmingham in the Southern League may give Burns some opposition for the job though Burns is slated to start the season at the initial sack.

Chick Fewster will star at second base but Fewster is warm tempered. Speaker has threatened to buy a rope to tie the Chick's glove on next season. Reason is Fewster has a trick of throwing his glove on the ground when the umpire's decision displeases him. This invariably cost him a place in the lineup. Riggs Stepperson and Klugman will be second base under-studies.

Joe Sewell at short ought to be the best stop in the league this year, according to "Spoke."

Lutzke, who had a so-so year last season at third will start at that position again.

Right field is another questionable spot for the Indian chief. Homer Summa, Cliff Lee, Harvey Hendricks (recently drafted from the Yankees) and Pat McNulty will fight it out for this berth. This will be in center and Jamerion who Speaker thinks is the greatest outfielder now in baseball, will work in left.

The veteran pitchers and catchers go to Hot Springs Ark., to start training February 11 and the whole squad will assemble at Lakeland, Fla., March 9.

COUNTY CORN SHOW READY FOR OPENING

scoring corn by Mr. Inel. The scoring of ten single ears counted one-fourth on the total grade and the scoring of nine 5-ear samples counted three-fourths.

The boys finished as follows, the first eleven being from Walker township:

Wallace Mull first; Wallace Hach second; Cecil Land, third; Leslie Wissing, fourth; Waldo Brown, fifth; Lowell Gordon, sixth; Glen Winton, seventh; John Inlow eighth; David Hester, ninth; Wade Fair, tenth; eleventh, Wallace Inlow.

The remaining five given a place were as follows: Elmer Linville, Richmond, twelfth; Gerald Whitton, Center, thirteenth; Richard McMillin, Union, fourteenth; Glenn Retherford Center, fifteenth; Harold Cloud, Richmond, sixteenth.

Back to school today. After a two weeks lay-off, the Lions will get back to the old time training and practice, and the first big game will be Friday night at Richmond.

THREE WEEKS UNTIL THE SEMESTER ENDS, AND THEN DAVISON AND OSBORN BECOME ELIGIBLE FOR THE LIONS.

Carthage has a gym that would make several towns around here green with envy. The playing floor is five feet longer and one foot wider than Rushville, and 800 people can be accommodated.

Hagerstown dropped Spiceland Friday night, 20 to 17, and the record for Spiceland is still clean—that is, they haven't won a game yet.

Richmond has two hard ones this week, but Rushville gets the first crack at them. On Saturday night Richmond plays at Newcastle.

Tourney Drawing to be Made on Thursday

The drawing for positions in the Sixth District county seat tourney to be played at Connersville January 24, will be held this week on Thursday night at the McFarlan Hotel in Connersville, according to E. B. Butler of this city, president of the association. Mr. Butler also has listed the rules and regulations to be followed by the tourney, as agreed upon March 8, 1924, when it was organized. Each team can enter 12 players, and the complete list of rules is as follows:

1. This Tourney shall be conducted along the same lines and under the same general plans as all so-called State Basketball Tourneys are at present.

2. The rules and regulations of the I. H. S. A. A. shall be rigidly held and enforced at all times with the following exceptions—

1. That each high school Principal may certify as many players as he may wish for this Tourney.

2. That 12 of these certified players shall be chosen for Tourney participation before the team begins to play in the Tourney.

3. That the high school holding this tourney will manage and conduct the Tourney in a businesslike manner. All expense connected with holding the Tourney shall be paid from the funds first. The high school holding the Tourney shall receive $100 next. All travelling expenses of the other teams shall be paid next and the balance remaining shall be equally divided among the eight competing teams of the Tourney.

4. Should a deficit exist each competing team shall bear its share as may be determined by the Principals at their meeting.

5. A silver loving cup, properly engraved, shall be given the winning team as a Tourney trophy award.

6. Two high class and competent officials to act alternately as Referee and Umpire shall be chosen for this tourney. If any Principal may have any objection to any official proposed for this Tourney such official shall not be employed.

7. Teams eligible to participate in this Tourney are Brookville, Connersville, Greenfield, Liberty, Newcastle, Richmond, Rushville and Shelbyville.

8. In the event that any of these teams may not be able to participate in this Tourney next year other nearby county seat teams will be invited to take a place to fill the schedule.

9. When a school has once held this Tourney it shall not be eligible to hold it again until each of the other schools above has had the same opportunity.

10. By this method of rotation each school may hold this Tourney once in eight years.

11. The Principals of each of these eight high schools shall meet at least one month before the time for the Tourney and make final arrangements and settle matters of detail for the Tourney.

They shall determine—

1. The price of single and season admissions.

2. Set the date for the next year for the Tourney.

3. Choose the place for the Tourney for the next year.

4. Agree upon the Referees for the Tourney.

5. Set the time for eligibility lists to be with the center Principal.

6. Determine what other schools to invite should there be a vacancy another year.

7. Make the drawing and schedule for the teams in the Tourney.

8. Make, amend or change any rules of regulations which may not be satisfactory.

9. Go over the plans of the Tourney, floor and gymnasium rules and regulations with all those who will participate in the Tourney.

10. Whether a school may bring its Band or not.

3. The first Sixth District county seat high school Basketball Tourney shall be held in Connersville, Saturday, January 24, 1925.

4. Seven games shall be played in all; four in the morning, two in the afternoon and one, the final at night. The center Principal may arrange for a captain-raiser to the final game if he may care to do so.

Says Alices Are Best

Following the game between Vincennes and Bloomington last week, Rim Rickets in the Bloomington World offer the following:

Vincennes has one of the best teams Coach Adams has ever had. When the "Alices" met the "Panthers" Wednesday night, they showed better form than a Vincennes team has done here in many months.

"Anderson runs down to Connersville to entertain the Rmiks for forty minutes tonight," said the Vincennes Sun Friday, but judging from the score, Anderson almost had to run home with the short end of the score.

SHELBYVILLE IS DEFENDED

Following a comment given Saturday concerning Shelbyville and its two recent losses, Ding Bat of this city comes to the rescue of the Camels. While the affairs at Shelbyville are only of passing interest here, and the item concerning the trouble between the coach and first string players was given Hittin' em Saturday, it was believed to be of a reliable source, and was so taken. Here is another version, and may either tangle or untangle the situation. He says: The Article in Saturday's paper headed, The Truth about Shelbyville, someone was sadly misinformed. The actual facts about that Lebanon game all sum up in one thing. Tim Campbell is coach of the team and is running it to the best of his knowledge and ability and will not take suggestions from any bunch of men who follow the team for their own benefit.

At Lebanon, just as the second half started, after Campbell had ordered some of his first string men into the game, three men approached the Shelbyville coach and tried to tell him how to run the team. Tim at once told the boys to return to the bench and ordered his second string men to finish the game. All of this talk about the players balking is bunk, for there is not a boy who ever played for Tim Campbell who does not swear by him and will not allow anyone to say a word against him. Ask the Richeson brothers, Joe Campbell, Piggy Hogue, Kaufman, Hodges, Barnett or in fact anyone who ever wore a Shelby uniform under Campbell.

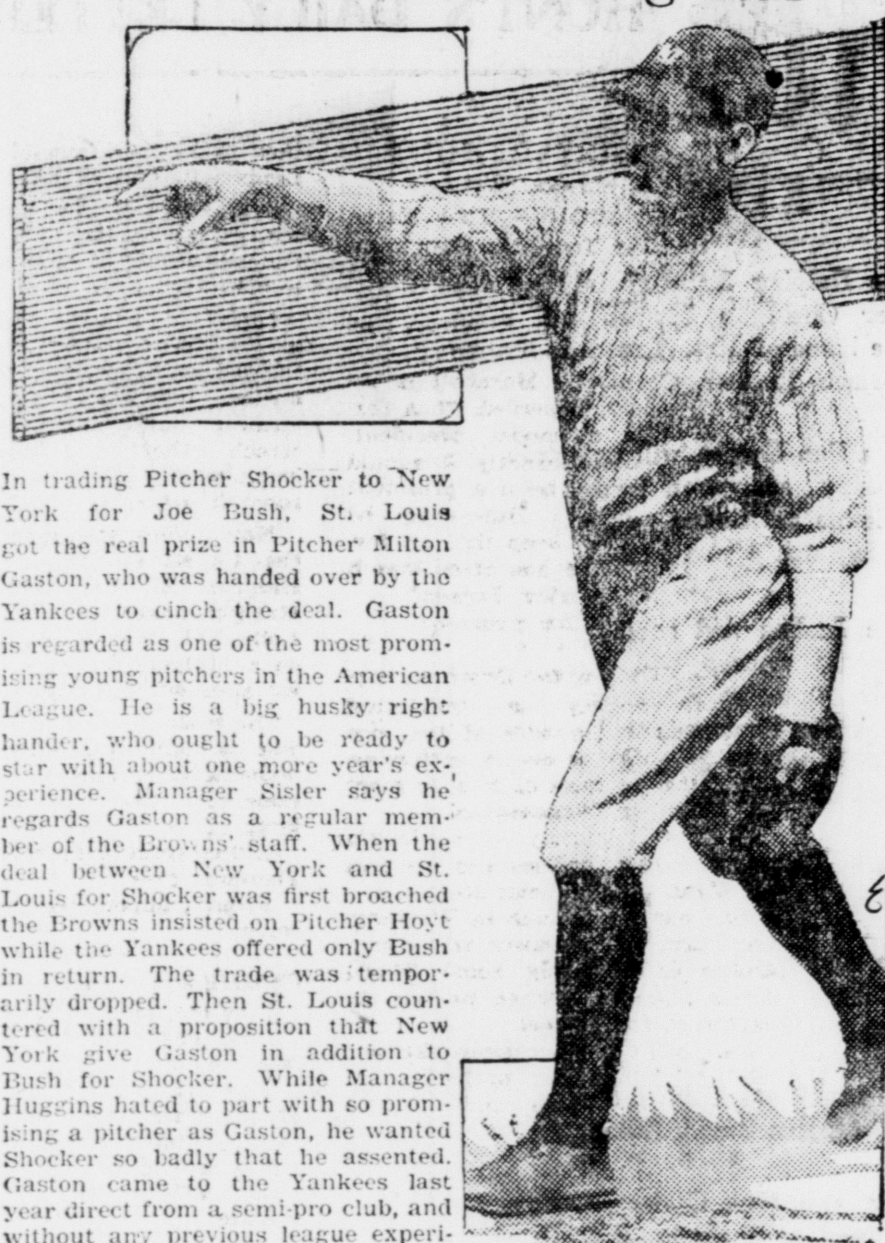

At Greencastle the regular team played the game from start to finish Bass was substituted for Dungan who had three personals on him and Morris took Ewick's place at center when he was taken out for instructions. There was no soreness or balking by any member of the team, but they were outplayed and beaten by Greencastle, because Shelbyville could not hit the basket and were always out of bounds on the small floor. If all the coaches had the nerve and courage of Tim Campbell, basketball would always be the good clean game that it is now and would not be run by a bunch of men who do not care for the game or any particular team just as long as they can advance their own interests.

While I do not think Shelbyville is as good as Rushville, they will in all probability give some of the crack teams in the state a lot of trouble if the real honest to goodness fans will back Tim Campbell in his fight, to keep the game a clean sport for the betterment of the high schools and an entertainment for the better class of people.

Yours, DING BAT

Now all of this ought to hold you until tomorrow.

Browns Land Young Star

MILTON GASTON

In trading Pitcher Shocker to New York for Joe Bush, St. Louis got the real prize in Pitcher Milton Gaston, who was handed over by the Yankees to clinch the deal. Gaston is regarded as one of the most promising young pitchers in the American League. He is a big husky right hander, who ought to be ready to star with about one more year's experience. Manager Sisler says he regards Gaston as a regular member of the Browns' staff. When the deal between New York and St. Louis for Shocker was first broached the Browns insisted on Pitcher Hoyt while the Yankees offered only Bush in return. The trade was temporarily dropped. Then St. Louis countered with a proposition that New York give Gaston in addition to Bush for Shocker. While Manager Huggins hated to part with so promising a pitcher as Gaston, he wanted Shocker so badly that he assented. Gaston came to the Yankees last year direct from a semi-pro club, and without any previous league experience did so well that he was used by Huggins as relief pitcher in a number of important games. Gaston is a brother of Alex Gaston, who for years was carried by McGraw of the New York Giants' catching staff.

$2,600,000 SPENT ON NEW STATE BUILDINGS

Largest Expenditure was for New Indiana Reformatory at Pendleton Costing $1,300,000

EXPENDITURE LIST MADE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5—During 1924, Indiana institutions spent more than $2,600,000 for new buildings, according to figures compiled by the state board of accounts today.

The largest single expenditure was for the new Indiana Reformatory at Pendleton, on which more than $1,300,000 was spent for new buildings and equipment.

Among other larger expenditures made at the various institutions were:

Service plant at Purdue university $230,370.
New science hall at the Muncie State Normal school, $175,068.

New service plant and dining room at the Indiana Medical School and Robert W. Long Hospital at Indianapolis $205,260.

A new building for female patients at the Village of Epileptics, Newcastle $100,293.

Officers quarters at the State Soldiers' Home $207,172.

New boilers at the Boy's School, at the Eastern Hospital for the Insane, Richmond $140,185.

Riley Memorial Hospital, Indianapolis $75,000.

Southeastern Hospital for the Insane, Madison $33,921.

Service buildings at the Indiana State farm $25,447.

New boilers at the Boy's School, Plainfield, $20,757.

Brownburg is still going fast, judging from the 54 to 15 defeat given Lizton Saturday night.

Bike Races Retain Popularity

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

By FRANK GETTY

New York, Jan. 5—They hate to quit.

When old Alf Goulet, who has been riding bicycles so long he is round-shouldered like an ant-eater was taken to a hospital last month for an operation to remove his appendix, he announced he was through with the bike racing game.

And when Alf back to consciousness through the ether, the first thing he shouted was:

"I haven't retired. I'll be back in the saddle in two months."

And so it goes.

Of course, bicycle racing is far from being a proper sport, especially the six-day variety. It is a spectacle, not a sport; but as such it draws sufficient spectators to keep itself alive financially. Bike-racing devotees are for the most part an ignorant lot. They like the whirl of the pack around the steep, shining bowl and the informalities permitted the spectators.

However, as the lady said at the museum, they know what they like, and apparently a lot of them like it, judging by the following "hand-out" from one of bicycling's press agents:

"Bicycle racing enjoyed one of its greatest years in 1924 in point of racing competition and attendance at the bicycle tracks in Newark, New York, Boston, Providence, Worcester and New Bedford, as well as at the six-day races in New York and Chicago. The amateur game flourished too, with road competition in practically every big city in the country. The outstanding feature of 1924 was the victory in the world's championship of Peter Moeskops, of Holland. The title was decided at Paris, France, and marked the fourth consecutive year that Moeskops won the world's title. Moeskops then came to America to ride and won sixteen out of nineteen match races against the best riders in America.

"Here in America, Arthur Spencer won the American sprint championship, the title held in 1923 by his brother Willie Spencer. George Chapman of Newark, won the motor-paced championship of America for the fourth straight time, while Paul Croley, a Brooklyn boy, who

IS YOUR WORK HARD?

Many Rushville Folks Have Found How to Make Work Easier

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back? Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn? There is no peace from that dull ache. No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.

Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Rushville people recommend Doan's.

Orville Gilbert, shoe repairer, 639 W. Ninth St., Rushville, says: "Kidney trouble came on through heavy work. Mornings I was mighty lame and stiff and when I stooped, sharp catches took me across my kidneys. My back was so lame I had to stay home from work for a few days. My kidneys acted so frequently, I had to get up at night. Doan's Pills fixed me up and made me feel like my old self."

From School Teacher To Great Eminence

A young man who was brought up on a farm in Western Pennsylvania studied diligently and qualified for district school teacher. Further pursuing his studies and teaching, he managed to save up enough money to put him thru medical college. After the Civil War, he began the practice of medicine in the new oil section of Pa., and often rode horse-back thru the woods to reach and relieve those who were seriously ill. He was a student of nature, knew and could easily recognize most of the medicinal plants growing in the woods. Later, he moved to Buffalo, N.Y., where he launched his favorite remedies, and, in a short time, they were sold by every druggist in the land. Today, the name of this man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, is known throughout the world. His Golden Medical Discovery is the best known blood medicine and tonic. More than fifty million bottles have been sold in the U. S. If your druggist does not sell the Golden Medical Discovery, in liquid or tablets, you can obtain a trial pkg. of the tablets by sending 10c to the Dr. Pierce Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

1924 WAS NOTABLE IN HISTORY OF U. S.

FURTHER TAX REDUCTION

Tax Bill Probably Was Outstanding Piece of Legislation Enacted by Congress

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 5—Of many epochs it is said that they "came in like a lion and went out like a lamb" but history records few that are more faithfully so characterized than the political and legislative year 1924.

The year dawned with a sensational series of revelations of alleged graft and corruption in the federal government that shook the nation. It is going out with the investigation of a vague memory, a conservative President in the White House and the Secretary of the Treasury harking back to the days of '96.

The Senate investigations and the return of President Coolidge to the White House for four years in a three-cornered election were unquestionably the outstanding political events of the year. The fields of legislative and executive accomplishment were marked by further tax reduction and another slice from the public debt.

Congress was in session from the beginning of January to the 7th of June, mainly engrossed with the investigations, with feverish assaults on cabinet officers, with reducing taxes, passing the bonus, enacting restrictive legislation barring Japanese and generally keeping the country in a turmoil. It returned on December 3, a chastened body, the insurgent Republicans largely defeated, with an enunciated legislative program, designed only to keep it busy until its constitutional demise on March 4 next.

No sooner was Congress adjourned for the summer than the quadrennial Presidential was ushered in with a bang. Less than a week after adjournment, Calvin Coolidge, of Vermont, was acclaimed the nominee of the Republican party.

General Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, was named as his running mate.

The Democrats, intent upon capitalizing the unrest and discontent incident to the revelations of official corruption under the Republican administration, went into convention in New York early in July, full of hope.

They emerged 10 days later, after 103 ballots in the most turbulent political convention in history, torn and bleeding from bitter religious quarrels and factional disputes between Governor Al Smith of New York and William G. McAdoo, with a candidate of sterling worth, according to his political foes as well as his friends—John W. Davis of West Virginia—but with a party divided and scant chance of coming through the victors. Governor Charles Bryan of Nebraska was the Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee.

Meanwhile, Senator Robert M.

Obenchain Weds Again

"The one man in a million" has married again. Ralph H. Obenchain, who won that "title" because of the defense of his divorced wife, Madeline Connor Obenchain, in her three trials for the murder of J. Edson Kennedy in Los Angeles a few years ago, has married Miss Mabel Schmitz, 21, of Evanston, Ill. Obenchain is a lawyer and theater manager of Evanston.

LaFollette laid plans for his own campaign. On July 4, at Cleveland, at a convention of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, LaFollette was formally acclaimed the leader of American independence and launched himself on the ocean of Presidential politics, with Senator Wheeler of Montana, his second-place man. The American Federation of Labor endorsed the ticket.

The upshot of the first three-cornered campaign in 12 years was a sweeping victory for Coolidge, who obtained 382 electoral votes, Davis 136, and LaFollette 13. Coolidge's popular vote approximated 17,500,000, Davis vote, 7,500,000 and LaFollette's 4,500,000.

The Congressional situation throughout the year was dominated by the LaFollette progressive group which held the balance of power between the two evenly divided old parties. Throughout the six months of the year that the legislature sat, they were the commanding figures.

They tied up organization of the House while they demanded and got a liberalization of the rigid rules of the House. They extended their

BILL PROVIDES FOR STATE CONSTABULARY

BANKERS SPONSORING MOVE

Indianapolis Ind., Jan. 5—The proposed bill providing for an Indiana state constabulary is ready for presentation early in the coming session of the state legislature, Felix McWhirter, representing the power to include sitting in judgment on the measures sponsored by the administration, and, in alliance with the Democrats dictating changes.

The two big investigations of the year were the Teapot Dome inquiry and the Daugherty probe. The former resulted in the elimination of Secretary of the Navy Denby by resignation and his replacement by Curtis Dwight Wilbur of California, and the enforced withdrawal from the cabinet of Attorney-General Daugherty, who was succeeded by Harlan Fiske Stone of New York.

Other investigations undertaken during the hectic spring included those of the Internal Revenue Bureau, which drew a protest from President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon; of the Veterans' Bureau, diploma mills, Texas land frauds, election of Senator Mayfield of Texas, Russian propaganda, the Bok peace award, Shipping Board, aircraft, charges against members of the House, campaign expenditures and other minor probes.

The tax bill probably was the outstanding piece of legislation enacted, even overshadowing its companion piece, the soldiers' bonus bill which finally went through providing insurance policies for veterans. Secretary Mellon recommended sharp downward revision of the surtax rates to stimulate revenue producing investment and head off the flight of capital into tax-exempt securities which states and municipalities continued to issue at the rate of $1,000,000,000 a year, despite criticism by federal officials.

No active steps to change America's foreign policies were taken during the year. The Senate refused to act on the Harding-Hughes world court urged by President Coolidge and its major activity in foreign fields was ratifying a series of rum treaties negotiated by Secretary Hughes with maritime nations to facilitate the American war against rum runners.

The Treasury Department continued to shave the public debt and place the short-term issues on a sounder basis. Nearly 1 billion dollars was cut from the debt, with resultant cuts in interest requirements. A huge issue of 30 year four percent bonds was put on the market at the end of the year, $200,000,000 worth being sold for cash, and another $1,000,000,000 being issued in exchange for Third Liberty bonds and other maturing issues.

BENNETT GIVEN DOUBLE SENTENCE

Pleads Guilty in Court to Grand Larceny and Transporting and Receiving Liquor

GETS 1 TO 14 YEARS IN PRISON

Also Sentenced to Six Months in State Penal Farm and Fined $100 and Costs

William Bennett, age 31 was given a double sentence in circuit court when he entered a plea of guilty to two charges against him, one being for grand larceny, and the other for transportation and receiving liquor.

The first charge brought a fine of $5 and costs by Judge Sparks and a sentence of from one to 14 years at the state prison, and the latter charge carried a fine of $100 and costs and a six months sentence at the state farm.

Bennett was arrested late Friday afternoon at the home of Silverton Miller, 219 West Sixth street, when police officers conducted a raid, and found the two men in the house, and 21 gallons of moonshine liquor hidden beneath the bed, under a trap door.

Miller is also in jail, and will stand trial. His case has been set for Thursday of this week. He is held on a charge of transporting liquor.

Bennett was arrested several weeks ago with Harry Rainey and they were jointly charged with conspiracy and larceny, being implicated in the theft of tires and automobile accessories from Elsbury Peak Rainey is serving his term on the larceny charge, but Bennett had never been tried and for three weeks was on bond.

After his arrest in the liquor episode at the Miller home, he was arraigned on both charges, and entered a plea of guilty to each, with the first count in the conspiracy affidavit being nolleed, and the sentence being given to him on the larceny count.

Officers are also holding the Ford coupe belonging to Bennett, which was confiscated in front of the Miller home, and the disposition of it will be considered later.

JURY VERDICT IS FOR FINE OF $1 AND COSTS

Carl Murphy Found Guilty When Tried on Charge of Selling Mortgaged Property

DIVORCE COMPLAINT FILED

A jury today in the circuit court heard the case of the State against Carl Murphy, charged with selling mortgaged property, and after the brief evidence was presented, a verdict was returned, fining the defendant $1 and costs. The prosecuting witness was the American Security company, who alleged that the defendant sold a straw haler that was mortgaged.

The jury will report Wednesday to hear the state case against Raymond Mofford, charged with larceny. Two complaints were filed today in the circuit court, one a divorce suit and the other a complaint for partition of real estate.

In the divorce action Blanche Riley is plaintiff and Earl B. Riley, defendant. The complaint alleges that they were married December 13, 1904 and separated November 13, 1919, at which time he is charged with abandoning her, and has since failed to provide or live with her. In the complaint for partition, Fred Hughes is plaintiff and Anna Boon, and others, defendants, the action being to have the court partition real estate involved in the estate of Albert Phillips, deceased.

AUTO DRIVER KILLS GIRL

REFLECTION FOOLS PEOPLE

Thought to be Fire and Department is Called Sunday

During the brief time that the sun came out Sunday afternoon, the bright reflection through an upstairs window, was the cause for a fire alarm to the residence of Ed Pitman 528 North Morgan street. When the firemen arrived, the sun went behind a cloud, and the discovery was then made that the excitement was caused from the sun.

At 12:15 this afternoon, the awning in front of the Ed Tyner tailor shop, 218 North Main street, caught fire, probably from a discarded cigarette from an upstairs window, and the firemen were called. A bucket of water from a window put out the blaze and no loss resulted.

VANDALS BREAK WINDOW GLASS

Damage at Six Places Reported to Police Early Sunday, But Guilty Ones Escape

MOTIVE IS NOT UNDERSTOOD

Bloodhounds From Newcastls Track
Vandals to Memorial Boulevard, Losing it at Main Street

Vandals with a mania for breaking out window glasses, started a campaign early Sunday morning, shortly after midnight, and losses at six places were reported to police, and a mystery surrounds the unexplained disturbance.

An effort to trace the vandals by means of blood hounds was made Sunday afternoon, but on account of the vast amount of territory covered by the persons who did the work, the tracks were lost near Main street and Memorial boulevard, when an automobile was probably boarded by the vandals.

No motive could be assigned by police for breaking the glass windows, other than to do damage to property and to frighten the occupants. Some persons are of the belief that the persons or persons were intoxicated.

The first report came into police headquarters about 12:15 Sunday morning from the home of Claude Parrish, 327 West Fifth street, who reported that a large window was smashed when someone tossed an automobile crank into the glass pane.

The next report came in shortly afterwards from the home of Mrs. Peter Hollowell, 401 North Harrison street. At this residence a large boulder was thrown into the window, breaking the glass with a loud crash. No other reports were received until after daylight, when the discovery was made at the other places.

At the Garage of the Rush County Mills in West Third street three windows were smashed. The prowlers then went to the office of the Nickel Plate railroad station, just west of the Rush County Mills, and all three glass windows in the telegraphers office were smashed, and the window casing in one of them was raised.

Whether the vandals were inside of the office was not learned, although nothing was found to be disturbed when the office was opened this morning.

Then the office at the Capitol Lumber company, just west of the depot, had three large windows smashed. Several windows at the Hoosier Corn Turner factory in West Second street, were broken, and this was not discovered until this morning.

Blood hounds belonging to Sheriff Otis Broadway of Newcastle were brought here, and they took up the scent from place to place, indicating that the same person committed all six window smashings. The dogs covered a great deal of territory between places, which indicated that the person was roaming at large, with no definite place in view.

After the dogs were brought to the residence of Mrs. Hollowell, they took up the scent and headed north, going through the park, and up the boulevard to a place near Main street, where indications pointed to a transfer to an automobile, and then all traces were lost.

It also is probable that the per-

ELIJAH A. KIRKPATRICK DIES NEAR HENDERSON

Prominent Farmer of Posey Township Expires at His Home Shortly Before Noon Today

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY AT 1:30

Elijah A. Kirkpatrick, age 75 years, a prominent farmer of Posey township, died shortly before noon today at his home southwest of Henderson, death resulting from an illness of several weeks.

The deceased was born in Jackson township, May 15, 1849, and was a farmer by occupation. He was educated at the Osborne school and remained at home until his marriage in 1870, when he began farming for himself. His first wife and their two sons, both preceded him in death.

He was married again in 1891 to Angie Cox, who with three children survive. The children are Martha, Stella and Angie.

Politically the deceased was a prominent democrat. He also was a member of the Christian church. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the late residence and burial will be made in Hannigan cemetery.

PROGRAM TO BEGIN AT 7:30

Harold McClanahan to Play at Station WEAF, New York, Tonight

Harold McClanahan, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. R. McClanahan, will broadcast a piano concert tonight from station WEAF, New York City, where the former local man is now employed, and Rushville radio audiences are invited to listen in between 8:30 and 8:50 eastern standard time, or commencing at 7:30 local time.

Rush county radio fans heard a sermon Sunday night broadcasted from KOA, Denver, Col., in which the message was delivered by the Rev. Loren Edwards, formerly of Milroy, and who is now pastor at the Trinity Methodist church in Denver. The former Milroy minister notified his friends in this county last week that he would preach, and at the beginning of his sermon last night, he extended greetings to his friends back in Indiana.

DEGREE PRACTICE

The Red Men will hold their regular meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 at which time degree practice will be held.

APPOINTMENT UP TO COUNTY BOARD

Selection of County Agent One Question Before Township Trusttees at Monthly Meeting

OTHER MATTERS TO COME UP

Contract For Circulating Library to be Considered and May be Signed by Board

The first meeting of the year for the Rush County Board of education was being held this afternoon in the office of B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent, and among the mass of important business to come before them was the appointment of a county agent.

Other business mapped out for the trustees today was the annual reports to be heard from Mr. Farthing, as superintendent and also Mrs. Farthing as county attendance officer. Miss Alice Piersol, county music supervisor also was to make a report on the progress of her work since taking charge of music last September.

The board also was to elect officers for the ensuing year, including the selection of a secretary. The appointment of a county agent is made by the twelve township trustees, and it was regarded that the reappointment of H. D. VanMatre would be made.

The farm bureau has prepared a request that was to be filed with the board asking that the appointment of Mr. VanMatre be made on a two year basis, instead of the annual contract form that has been followed in the past.

Several other matters of a routine nature of business was to come up at the meeting this afternoon, and it was doubtful whether all of the reports could be made, and those that are not heard today, will be deferred until the February session of the board.

The contract for the circulating county library was to be read and gone over this afternoon by the board, and this was expected to take considerable time. It is believed that the contract will be approved and negotiations made to bring the circulating library into the county.

McKENNA RESIGNS

Washington, Jan. 5—Chief Justice Taft of the U. S. supreme court today announced that associate Justice McKenna had presented his resignation to Pres. Coolidge and that it had been accepted.

HAWKINS, UNABLE TO GIVE BOND, IS STILL IN JAIL

Former Head of Defunct Mortgage Co., Prepares to Fight Attempts to Remove him to Indianapolis

ELLIOTT GOES TO DAYTON, O.

(By United Press)

Dayton, O., Jan. 5—Morton Hawkins, former president of the defunct Hawkins Mortgage Co., of Portland, Ind., who is under indictment in federal court in Indianapolis on charges of fraudulent use of the mails, was still in jail here today in default of $20,000 bond.

Hawkins was confident that bond would be provided by the middle of the week. His mother returned to Portland to make efforts to raise the bond.

Meanwhile, Fred Warner, his attorney, prepared to fight attempts of the government to remove Hawkins to Indianapolis.

Warner will file objections tomorrow to Hawkins' removal. The objections will be based on four legal technicalities.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5—Homer Elliott, United States district attorney, and John Welborn, postoffice inspector, went to Dayton, O., today, where Morton Hawkins, former president of the Hawkins Mortgage Co., is in jail awaiting return to Indianapolis.

Elliott said he and Welborn were "going to look the situation over and probably confer with Adrew Idings, United States commissioner, regarding return of Hawkins."

Idings will hold a hearing next Monday on the removal proceedings.

Sheriff Hunt's Report Shows 122
Prisoners in Jail Last Year

There were more prisoners in the Rush county jail last year, than any of the two former years since Sidney L. Hunt has been sheriff, according to the report of Mr. Hunt.

The list of prisoners last year was 122 persons. In 1923 he had a total of 109 and in 1922 his prison records show 118 persons. The prison record is similar to a hotel register, in which the prisoners form the list when they have been in jail long enough to eat a meal. Prisoners who are placed in jail for only a few hours, are not entered as the sheriff obtains his fee, for boarding prisoners, and it is upon this basis that the record is maintained.

REAL ESTATE TO BE REASSESSED

State Tax Board Orders Reappraisal
in Indiana For This Year

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5—All real estate in Indiana will be reappraised in 1925 under the present tax law, which gives the state tax board that power, it was announced by the board today.

The reappraisal would have come in 1926, which the same law makes the base year for reappraisal and provides for new appraisements every four years.

The state board, at the suggestion of the county assessors, agreed to order a reassessment this year of all real estate. If the coming legislature amends the law, 1925 will be made the base year and there will be an appraisal every four years.

Gov. Branch and Ed. Jackson, governor-elect, both agreed to ask the legislature to make the change.

WEEK OF PRAYER TO OPEN TONIGHT

First Service Will be Held at First Presbyterian Church, With Sermon by E. G. McKibben

Rushville Churches Report Fine Interest and Addition of Many New Members During Day

Week of Prayer services, observed annually with union meetings by Rushville churches, will open tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church and the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. E. G. McKibben, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. The theme will be "Thanksgiving and Repentance."

"Let us give thanks for the revelation during another year that there is One who is within and above all the years, the same Lord who is rich in mercy to all who call upon him," says an announcement of the services from the Rushville Ministerial association. "Let us remember in penitence our lack of that faith which is bold to claim the resources of Christ Jesus."

On Tuesday night the services will be held at the same hour at the First Baptist church and the topic will be "The Church Universal." The Rev. H. W. Hargett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, will be the leader.

If the attendance at the churches Sunday is an omen for the year, they have reason to be encouraged according to reports received from pastors today.

There was a large attendance at the communion service in the First Presbyterian church. Nine persons were added to the membership, six of them being adults. Three young girls were baptized.

The following officers were elected in the Sunday school: Superintendent, Dr. D. C. McCully; assistant and chorister, B. O. Simpson; secretary, Miss Helen Pierson; treasurer, Lon Link; secretary of literature, Miss Grace Spencer; pianist, Miss Carolyn Wilson.

In the morning service and preceding the communion the pastor used for his text, Jer. 31:3, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee."

He said in part: "How rich we are in friends: The infinite, undying, imperishable love of God is mine. His love is older than the mountains, higher than the heavens, deeper than the sea and more powerful than sin that would tear us away from Him. That love will not let me go but lavishes its tender affections upon me, pleads with me, woos me, rebukes me, corrects me, and sends His only Son who died for me."

"The purpose of that love is to lift me up to the higher and better things of life. Beneath us is the everlasting arm of God, seeking to lift us up into the clearer better life of fellowship with him."

"Jesus came to earth to restore the image of God in us, which had been lost because of sin. He came with the knowledge that the image was there though concealed with sin. To have his life touch our life."

COUNTY CORN SHOW READY FOR OPENING

First Floor of Court House Hive of Industry in Preparation for Exhibit Starting Tuesday

PREPARING FOR 250 EARS

Ladies Department and Girls' Club Display Also Put in Place—Results of Corn Judging Event

The complete premium list and rules for the corn show and Ladies department and Girls' Club events, opening at the court house Tuesday, will be found today on Page 2.

The well known hive of industry was a tame affair compared with the first floor of the court house, this morning, where everything was astir preparing for the fourth annual Rush County Corn Show which will open Tuesday and continue until Thursday evening.

Benches were being arranged in the court house assembly room for the display of 250 ears of corn, that is expected for the show, and arrangements were being made for the exhibit of the Ladies department and Girls' Club entries in the county agent's office.

A preliminary event to the corn show was held Saturday when boys of the county competed in the corn judging contest, in which seventeen awards were made. The contest was in charge of Paul Imel, vocational teacher of Walker township.

The corn show rules provide that the corn shall all be in place by noon Tuesday, at which time the judging will begin. C. E. Troyer of LaFountaine, Wabash county, former national corn king, will act as judge. He judged the corn in the show here two years ago, the last one held in this county. Mr. Troyer will go from here to Columbus, Ind., where he will speak at a corn meeting Friday.

Miss Lella Gaddis of Purdue university will act as judge in the Ladies department and Girls' Club contest. She will also hold a conference with representative women of each township Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock in the county agent's office to outline a program for the year.

Miss Gaddis will speak at the Graham Annex auditorium Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, following the first showing of "Bob Farnam's Ton Litter," a motion picture which was produced in this county. On Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock there will be an entertainment at the auditorium, at which the motion picture will again be shown, and on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, Paul Benson of Newcastle will speak. His subject will be, "Watchman, What of the Night?"

A soy bean display was being arranged in the corridor on the first floor of the court house this morning by Hugh Archey of Orange township, Jess Henley of Ripley township and Claude Sears of Center township with "Grow More Soy Beans in Indiana" as the central theme. A chart is included in the display showing that soybeans may be grown profitably for hay, grain, hogging off and seed.

Herschel VanMatre, county agent asserted that the show this year would demonstrate that the surface was barely being scratched, and that there are great possibilities in developing the display. He expressed the belief that the corn show could be held before the holidays, so that the school boys and girls of the county would have a larger part in it. They have been out of touch with their teachers during the vacation and have lost some of their enthusiasm for the show.

This was one reason for the number of contestants in the corn judging contest being smaller than anticipated. Many of the boys were of such an age that they could not come to Rushville alone, and their parents did not have time to bring them. Walker township was the only one well represented, and this was due to the fact that Mr. Imel arranged for the school back to bring the boys to Rushville.

Before the contest began, all of the boys were given instructions in

LABOR BOARD BILL BLOCKS BUSINESS

Controversy in Congress Over Abolishing Board, Will Cause Other Matters to Drop

MANY BILLS ARE PENDING

Congress Will Quit March 4, and Unless More Action is Obtained Much Will go Unfinished

By WILLIAM J. McEVOY (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 5.—With House leaders and supporters of the Howell-Barkley bill, abolishing the Railroad Labor Board, determined to wage a finished fight over enactment of the measure, a mass of legislation of national scope and sectional interest is destined to certain death.

Unless either side retires from its position, more than 100 bills, many of which are "pet" measures of various Congressmen, will die with the fall of Speaker Gillett's gavel at noon March 4.

The railroad bill, under its peculiar parliamentary status, can only come before the House on the first and third Mondays of each month, the same days designated for consideration of calendar bills. Its present position is at the head of this calendar and the announcement of opponent of the bill to employ every existing parliamentary maneuver to defeat its passage, indicates that remaining bills on the calendar will not be reached this session. Only five calendar days remain between now and March 4.

In the pile of bills which cannot be considered by the House until the Howell-Barkley bill is disposed of are the following:

To prevent the oil pollution of navigable rivers.

To punish the unlawful transmission in interstate commerce or through the mails of gambling machines, fraudulent devices, pistols and revolvers.

To authorize appropriations for the construction of hangars and maintenance of flying fields for the use of the air-mail service of the Post Office Department.

To authorize the Postmaster-General to continue the existing government owned and operated air mail service.

To encourage commercial aviation and to authorize the Postmaster-General to contract for air-mail service.

To promote peace and to equalize the burdens and to minify the profits of war.

To authorize an appropriation for the Secretary of Agriculture to purchase and distribute valuable seeds.

To purchase the Oldroyd collection of Lincoln relics, the greatest in number and most important in value of any single collection in existence.

To authorize the erection of a monument here to symbolize the game of baseball.

To establish an Alaska game commission to protect game animals, land fur-bearing animals and birds in Alaska.

To enlarge the Stanislaus National Forest, California, the Umatilla, Wallawa and Whitman National Forests, Oregon, the Nevada National Forest.

To investigate the feasibility of establishing a national military park in Kansas City, Mo., commemorative of the Battle of Westport, October 23, 1864.

A number of bills granting the consent of Congress to various cities and towns throughout the country to construct and operate bridges and dams also are awaiting their turn on the calendar.

HOGS TOP MARKET

Barney White of Rushville, R. R. 2, shipped a load of hogs to Cincinnati one day last week which sold ten cents higher than any hogs sold on that market during the past year and which were responsible for the Cincinnati market advancing ten cents that day. They were Hampshires and the shipment consisted of sixty-two head.

Washington.—The year's receipts are expected to put the postoffice here in the first class rank. The goal of $40,000 necessary for the promotion has been reached.

Huntington.—Harmon McEndorfer owns a wash tub which has been used by him for 54 years.

Premium List and Rules for Rush County Corn Show Here January 6-7-8

Rules

- 1—No exhibitor will be allowed to make more than one entry in any one class.
- 2—Every exhibit must have been grown on land owned or operated by the exhibitor in 1924, and in township classes exhibits must be entered in townships where grown.
- 3—Exhibitors who have previously won first prize on a 10-ear sample in the county class will not be eligible to compete in township classes, but will be admitted to county classes.
- 4—All exhibits must be in the show room not later than 12:00 noon, Tuesday, January 6th, 1925, and must remain in the show room until 3:00 p. m. Thursday, January 8th.
- 5—All exhibits entered in the township or junior classes shall automatically compete in next-highest classes.
- 6—All exhibits shall remain the property of the exhibitor.
- 7—Persons showing in junior classes must be enrolled in county schools.
- 8—The committee in charge reserves the right to make such other rules as may be found necessary to serve to the best interests of all.

Premium List

This is the Fourth Annual Rush County Corn Show, and we predict that it will be the largest and most successful exhibit of corn yet held in the county. This time, a professional class has been eliminated from the premium list, and it is hoped that this will attract more exhibitors from our own county, who would like to try their metal against the other corn growers of our county. The primary purpose of the Rush County Corn Show is educational, and we feel it will give our growers an opportunity to bring their corn up to a higher and truer type.

The Senior and Junior Classes have been enlarged this year for the purpose of stimulating among all the folks of the county more interest in good corn. We predict that the silver cup and honor banners offered for sweepstakes in all classes will serve as an added inducement to the corn growers of the county.

Bandits Rob Banks and Burn Town

Bank bandits, after looting two Valley View (Tex.) banks of $10,000, started a fire which destroyed two blocks of business buildings, causing a loss of $250,000. The bandits blew open two safes, started the fire by use of a slow fuse, and escaped before the blaze was discovered. The picture shows the havoc wrought by the bandits and the fire.

BILL TO "PULL TEETH IN" PRESENT "BLUE SKY" LAW

Proposed Measure Will Open Way For Legitimate Business Concerns to Sell Stock in State

ELIMINATES "RED TAPE"

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5.—The drawing up of a bill to "pull teeth in" the present "blue sky" law has been completed today for presentation to the state legislature.

It was drawn up by a committee composed of representatives of state bankers and state securities associations.

According to W. H. Arnett, secretary of the Kokomo Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the committee, the proposed bill will open the way for legitimate business concerns to sell their stock in Indiana by eliminating the greater portion of "red tape" now required to qualify in Indiana, and will serve to stop to operation of uncertain concerns.

It will also provide more ways for the investor to investigate to stock on the market.

One of the chief objections to the present law, Arnett said, is that exempts all companies doing business in the state prior to 1920.

Fatal Print?

Here's a horse's hoof-print and the man it may send to the gallows. The print was found on the road leading from the home of Warren A. Libby, 74-year-old Pueblo (Col.) rancher, who was murdered with an ax for the sake of his flock of 150 white chickens. The print is said to be the same as that of the horse owned by L. W. Smith, alleged ex-convict, shown above. Smith is charged with the killing.

HOW BIG?

When you leave the theatre tonight it'll ring in your ears and you'll be asking yourself — "How Big?" — and you'll be thinking of Selina whom life couldn't down — and of how great she made the life that was here to live — So many things you'll think about and, maybe, when all is quiet and you're all alone you'll think again and then maybe you'll be saying to yourself — "How Big Am I?"

First Baptist church The Bible school was the largest in attendance in many months. In the closing exercise, "The Crusaders", a class of Junior boys and girls, presented a yard of pennies, amounting to five dollars, to the church building fund.

Following the administration of the ordinance of baptism the pastor spoke on "Building a Conquering Faith". At the close of the sermon the hand of fellowship was given to seventeen new members and they were formally welcomed into the church by the pastor. The observance of the communion service closed the morning worship.

At the evening service the pastor spoke on "A New Year's Resolution" and following the sermon one more person united with the church.

Beginning Thursday night, January 15 the "Church Night Programs," which were a special feature of last year's program, will be resumed. More detailed announcement of the program will be made later.

intendent of public instruction little
more than a month, has been severely condemned in newspaper editorials that evidently reflect the
sentiment of the people in the newspapers' circulation area, for increasing his salary budget $2,500 a year. He will find very few who will commend this action.The office pays $5,000 a year.
That's what it paid before Dr. Sherwood was elected, a fact which he most certainly must have known
when he became a candidate. By seeking the office without announcing that he would ask for more money, he made a tacit agreement with the people to work for $5,000 a year.For him, after being elected, to demand a fifty percent raise in pay,
before his employers, the people,
had even an opportunity to know what kind of an employee he was, is entirely out of reason. Certainly no private business would follow such a policy.Laying aside all of these objections to an increase in the state superintendent's salary, it would still—to build up have a well-developed face and form. The whole, simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fat treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells!Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells.

Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red-blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-calls it needs—take S.S.S., the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump, because it rids the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, sore, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Start taking S.S.S. today and your great problem, that of your personal appearance, can be solved.S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.S.S.S. The World's Best Blood Medicinebe objectionable because of the flood of salary grab bills in the legislature, for which it would open the way.The legislature can never keep in tune with the spirit of the times by increasing the salaries of public officials. What taxpayers are demanding is lower taxes, not higher salaries for their public servants. Certainly a decrease in taxes can not be accomplished by paying more money to men elected to office.The coming legislature is hoping to make a record for brevity and economy. It can leave behind such a mark if it promptly squelches attempts like these.Flappers as FlippersPeople who are gravely concerned about the flapper's future may be
assiduously devoting herself to learning how to be a pancake flipper
than she is given to the study of flapping.A recent report of the United States bureau of education says
that the increase of student enrollment in home economic courses exceeds that of any other subject in the curriculum.This ambition on the part of American girls to learn more about
the scientific management of their homes is reflected in the great number of home service departments
with their lectures, cooking classes
and radio talks which have been installed during the past year by the gas companies of the United States.Nearly 8,000 high schools in this country now give courses in domestic science, with a total enrollment
of about 400,000 girls and 3,000
boys. This compares with only 1,350
schools ten years ago. The enrollment of girls taking these courses
in grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 of the elementary schools approximates 3-700,000. This means that there are
well over 4,100,000 children of school
age learning how to cook and keep house according to the most modern principles.FIFTEEN YEARS

cape from death about one o'clock
this afternoon and as it is he is suffering with a badly burned face.
The injuries were caused by the explosion of a can of wood alcohol.That the new Democratic administration will probably reorganize
the police department seems certain.

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON — They blame
this on Tom Marshall, the Hoozier who presided over the Senate during the two
terms of Woodrow Wilson as president."Mr. Coolidge," Marshall is reported to have observed, "has certainly made a model president.
Stating it more exactly, I should
say that he has been a president
without a vice. But even he won't be able to keep that up forever. He'll have one after March
6. It'll be Charles Dawes."Figure it out for yourself.
SPEAKING of the Dawes capital society is wondering
whether the wife of the vice president-to-be is overly enthusiastic at the prospect of four or more "assessors" in Washington.To put it plainly, Mrs. Dawes hasn't found of the fumes and feathers of Washington official society.She has lived much in Washington; first when Dawes was comptroller of currency some 30-odd
years ago, later when he was director of the budget.On both these occasions she was able to follow her preference of
taking little or no part in the
capital's social life, preferring to confine her interests and activities
within a little circle of close friends.As wife of a vice president, however, she inherits a stable burden of social obligations that cannot easily be shifted. In fact it is suggested the social duties devolving upon Mrs. Dawes may be
as irksome to her as the "figure-
head" job of v. p. may be to her naturally volatile and aggressive husband.

REPRESENTATIVE WILLIAM

C. Hammer, a militant Democrat from Ashboro, N. C.,
threatened to live up to his name
last summer, while in an alterca-tion with the honorable Thomas Lanning Burton of Asheville, N.C.As much as that time in the wire disarrangement of Washington, Hammer seems a chair and a voice to splinter it over Stanton's head.In fact he has the chair waving
in the air and was advancing on the dining room when fellow committed members interposed, restraining him and preventing the wrack of a congressional cranium or of some committee-room furniture.Now comes the sequel. Among the Christmas gifts received by Hammer last week was a sturdy,
straight-backed chair, so substantially built that it might be used as a foundation on even the chick-est chair without injury to itself.The wonder remained anonymous.
But by applying Sherlock Holmes's deduction, Hammer's friends are convinced that the chair came from one of two sources.Either from a faithful friend of Hammer, or—

From a hopeful enemy of Blan-

ton's.

TIME and change obliterate, one
by one, many of the historically interesting spots of old Washington.The old Surratt house, on H street, where John Wilkes Booth
plotted Lincoln's assassination, is being remodeled and the first floor hall will be made into stage rooms.WHILE Ambassador Jusserand's "swan song" as retiring ambassador seems to have been marred by some flat
notes, as witness all the discord
stirred up by his statement on the final liquidation of the French debt
to the United States, Washington
will be the richer in real music,
departing was to give a bird fountain, dedicated to "the birds of Pinney Branch," through which section Jusserand loved to walk.The Hodge - Podge

played one role consistently, and yet
her popularity continues to grow
enormously. While flapper roles have
been her forte recently, she is now
in "So Big" portraying a tensely emotional role of three personalities.The story is an adaptation from Edna Ferber's novel, based on life
in the old Dutch settlement near Chicago and is highly dramatic in its action.Colleen's assumption of this new type, entirely foreign to anything
to establish her as one of the most versatile stars on stage or screen.

INDIANS EXPECT TO HAVE SAME LINE-UP

Manager Blames Well Known Jinx For His Team Finishing Next to Last Last Year

TO HIT ITS STRIDE NOW

Theory That Lightning Never Strikes Twice in Same Place, Given by Speaker

Cleveland, Jan. 5.—The Cleveland Indians expect to hit their stride next season.

Only minor changes will be made in the lineup, according to Manager Tris Speaker.

"Spoke" blames the well known jinx for his team finishing the 1924 American League race one step out of the cellar.

He believes he was "out jinxed" for a real chance at the pennant.

His theory is that the lightning never strikes twice in the same place. Accordingly there will be few changes in the line up.

The Indians had an amazing record of casualties last season. George Uhle, premier hurler in the American league in 1923, hurt his arm in spring training and was never right all season. Jim Joe Edwards, young right handed flinger, received an injury early in the season and was of no value to the club thereafter. Every regular on the team except Joe Sewell, shortstop was out of the game at various times from one to five weeks.

Speaker dopes out the joint failure of Uhle and Edwards cost him thirty anticipated victories last season. Without the jinx the coming year he believes the teams will "hit its stride" and finish in a "favorable position."

However, if the aggregation fails to show after the season gets under way, the Indian leader is likely to make some radical changes as Speaker is not temperamentally a conservative stand-patter.

Among new players lined up is pitcher Speece, young right hander received from Washington in exchange for the veteran Stanley Coveleskie. Speece did little with Washington last year.

Joe Klugman, second baseman, drafted from Minneapolis is counted as a valuable reserve man in case Chick Fewster wobbles at second, or Walter Lutzke at third.

Speaker's infield, on paper is considered experiment George Burns did not show so well at first last season. Bob Knott, recalled from Birmingham in the Southern League may give Burns some opposition for the job though Burns is slated to start the season at the initial sack.

Chick Fewster will star at second base but Fewster is warm, tempered. Speaker has threatened to buy a rope to tie Chick's glove on next season. Reason is Fewster has a trick of throwing his glove on the ground when the umpire's decision displeases him. This invariably cost him a place in the lineup. Riggs Stepperson and Klugman will be second base under-studies.

Joe Sewell at short ought to be the best stop in the league this year, according to "Spoke."

Lutzke, who had a so-so year last season at third will start at that position again.

Right field is another questionable spot for the Indian chief. Homer Summa, Cliff Lee, Harvey Hendricks (recently drafted from the Yankees) and Pat McNulty will fight it out for this berth. This will be in center and Jamieson who Speaker thinks is the greatest outfielder now in baseball, will work in left.

The veteran pitchers and catchers go to Hot Springs Ark., to start training February 11 and the whole squad will assemble at Lakeland, Fla., March 9.

scoring corn by Mr. Inel. The scoring of ten single ears counted one-fourth on the total grade and the scoring of nine 3-ear samples counted three-fourths.

The boys finished as follows, the first eleven being from Walker township:

Wallace Mull first; Wallace Hach second; Cecil Land, third; Leslie Wissing, fourth; Waldo Brown, fifth; Lowell Gordon, sixth; Glen Winton, seventh; John Inlow eighth; David Hester, ninth; Wade Fair, tenth; eleven, Wallace Inlow.

The remaining five given a place were as follows: Elmer Linville, Richland, twelfth; Gerald Whitton, Center, thirteenth; Richard McMillin, Union, fourteenth; Glenn Retherford, Center, fifteenth; Harold Cloud, Richland, sixteenth.

Back to school today. After a two weeks lay-off, the Lions will get back to the old time training and practice, and the first big game will be Friday night at Richmond.

THREE WEEKS UNTIL THE SEMESTER ENDS, AND THEN DAVISON AND OSBORN BECOME ELIGIBLE FOR THE LIONS.

Carthage has a gym that would make several towns around here green with envy. The playing floor is five feet longer and one foot wider than Rushville, and 800 people can be accommodated.

Hagerstown dropped Spiceland Friday night, 20 to 17, and the record for Spiceland is still clean—that is, they haven't won a game yet.

Richmond has two hard ones this week, but Rushville gets the first crack at them. On Saturday night Richmond plays at Newcastle.

Tourney Drawing to be Made on Thursday

The drawing for positions in the Sixth District county seat tourney to be played at Connersville January 24, will be held this week on Thursday night at the McFarlan Hotel in Connersville, according to E. B. Butler of this city, president of the association. Mr. Butler also has listed the rules and regulations to be followed by the tourney, as agreed upon March 8, 1924, when it was organized. Each team can enter 12 players, and the complete list of rules is as follows:

1. This Tourney shall be conducted along the same lines and under the same general plans as all so-called State Basketball Tournaments are at present.

2. The rules and regulations of the I. H. S. A. A. shall be rigidly held and enforced at all times with the following exceptions—

1. That each high school Principal may certify as many players as he may wish for this Tourney.

2. That 12 of these certified players shall be chosen for Tourney participation before the team begins to play in the Tourney.

3. That the high school holding this tourney will manage and conduct the Tourney in a businesslike manner. All expense connected with holding the Tourney shall be paid from the funds first. The high school holding the Tourney shall receive $100 next. All travelling expenses of the other teams shall be paid next and the balance remaining shall be equally divided among the eight competing teams of the Tourney.

4. Should a deficit exist each competing team shall bear its share as may be determined by the Principals at their meeting.

5. A silver loving cup, properly engraved, shall be given the winning team as a Tourney trophy award.

6. Two high class and competent officials to act alternately as Referee and Umpire shall be chosen for this tourney. If any Principal may have any objection to any official proposed for this Tourney such official shall not be employed.

7. Teams eligible to participate in this Tourney are Brookville, Connersville, Greentfield, Liberty, Newcastle, Richmond, Rushville and Shelbyville.

In the event that any of these teams may not be able to participate in this Tourney next year other nearby county seat teams will be invited to take a place to fill the schedule.

9. When a school has once held this Tourney it shall not be eligible to hold it again until each of the other schools above has had the same opportunity.

10. By this method of rotation each school may hold this Tourney once in eight years.

11. The Principals of each of these eight high schools shall meet at least one month before the time for the Tourney and make final arrangements and settle matters of detail for the Tourney.

They shall determine—

1. The price of single and season admissions.

2. Set the date for the next year for the Tourney.

3. Choose the place for the Tourney for the next year.

4. Agree upon the Referees for the first Tourney.

5. Set the time for eligibility lists to be with the center Principal.

6. Determine what other schools to invite should there be a vacancy another year.

7. Make the drawing and schedule for the teams in the Tourney.

8. Make, amend or change any rules of regulations which may not be satisfactory.

9. Go over the plans of the Tourney, floor and gymnasium rules and regulations with all those who will participate in the Tourney.

10. Whether a school may bring its Band or not.

3. The first Sixth District county seat high school Basketball Tourney shall be held in Connersville, Saturday, January 24, 1925.

4. Seven games shall be played in all: four in the morning, two in the afternoon and one, the final at night. The center Principal may arrange for a captain-raiser to the final game if he may care to do so.

Says Alices Are Best

Following the game between Vincennes and Bloomington last week, Rm Rickets in the Bloomington World offer the following:

Vincennes has one of the best teams Coach Adams has ever had. When the "Alices" met the "Panthers" Wednesday night, they showed better form than a Vincennes team has done here in many months.

"Anderson runs down to Connersville to entertain the Hawks for forty minutes tonight," said the Vincennes Sun Friday, but judging from the score, Anderson almost had to run home with the short end of the score.

SHELBYVILLE IS DEFENDED

Following a comment given Saturday concerning Shelbyville and its two recent losses, Ding Bat of this city comes to the rescue of the Camels. While the affairs at Shelbyville are only of passing interest here, and the item concerning the trouble between the coach and first string players was given Hittin' em Saturday, it was believed to be of a reliable source; and was so taken. Here is another version, and may either tangle or untangle the situation. He says: The Article in Saturday's paper headed, 'The Truth about Shelbyville, someone was sadly misinformed. The actual facts about that Lebanon game all sums up in one thing. Tim Campbell is coach of the team and is running it to the best of his knowledge and ability and will not take suggestions from any bunch of men who follow the team for their own benefit.

At Lebanon, just as the second half started, after Campbell had ordered some of his first string men into the game, three men approached the Shelbyville coach and tried to tell him how to run the team. Tim at once told the boys to return to the bench and ordered his second string men to finish the game. All of this talk about the players talking is bunk, for there is not a boy who ever played for Tim Campbell who does not swear by him and will not allow anyone to say a word against him. Ask the Richeson brothers, Joe Campbell, Piggy Hogue, Kaufman, Hodges, Barnett or in fact anyone who ever wore a Shelby uniform under Campbell.

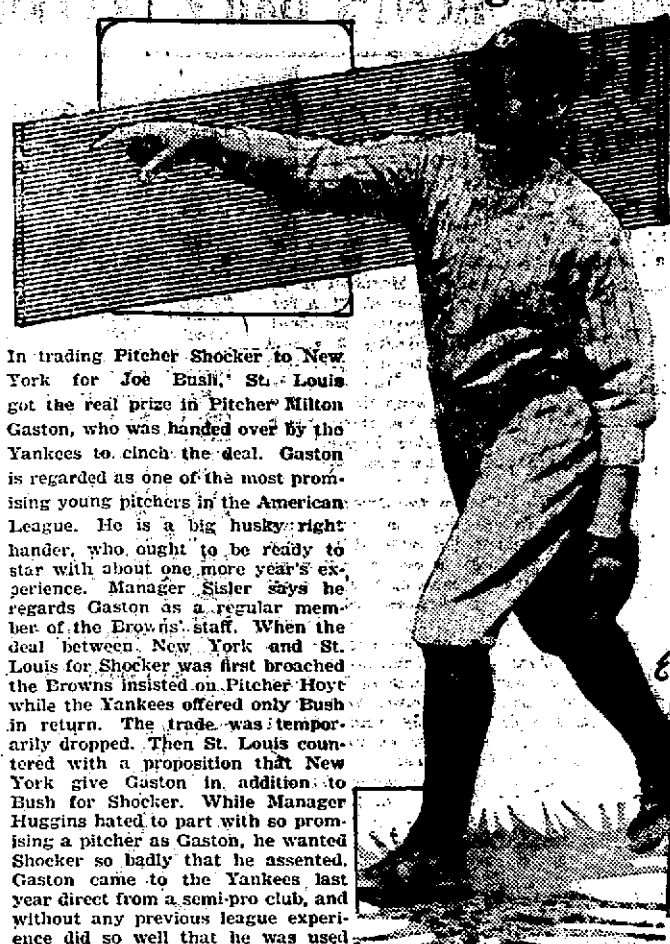

At Greentfield the regular team played the game from start to finish Bass was substituted for Dugan who had three personals on him and Morris took Ewick's place at center when he was taken out for instructions. There was no soreness or balking by any member of the team, but they were outplayed and beaten by Greentfield, because Shelbyville could not hit the basket and were always out of bounds on the small floor. If all the coaches had the nerve and courage of Tim Campbell, basketball would always be the good clean game that it is now and would not be run by a bunch of men who do not care for the game or any particular team just as long as they can advance their own interests.

While I do not think Shelbyville is as good as Rushville, they will in all probability give some of the crack teams in the state a lot of trouble if the real honest to goodness fans will back Tim Campbell in his fight, to keep the game a clean sport for the betterment of the high schools and an entertainment for the better class of people.

Browns Land Young Star

MILTON GASTON
In trading Pitcher Shocker to New York for Joe Bush, St. Louis got the real prize in Pitcher Milton Gaston, who was handed over by the Yankees to clinch the deal. Gaston is regarded as one of the most promising young pitchers in the American League. He is a big husky right hander, who ought to be ready to star with about one more year's experience. Manager Sisler says he regards Gaston as a regular member of the Browns' staff. When the deal between New York and St. Louis for Shocker was first broached the Browns insisted on Pitcher Huggins while the Yankees offered only Bush in return. The trade was temporarily dropped. Then St. Louis countered with a proposition that New York give Gaston in addition to Bush for Shocker. While Manager Huggins hated to part with so promising a pitcher as Gaston, he wanted Shocker so badly that he assented. Gaston came to the Yankees last year direct from a semi-pro club, and without any previous league experience did so well that he was used by Huggins as relief pitcher in a number of important games. Gaston is a brother of Alex Gaston, who for years was carried by McGraw of the New York Giants' catching staff.

Bike Races Retain Popularity

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
By FRANK GETTY

New York, Jan. 5.—They hate to quit.

When old Alf Goulet, who has been riding bicycles so long he is round-shouldered like an ant-eater was taken to a hospital last month for an operation to remove his appendix, he announced he was through with the bike racing game.

And when Alf back to consciousness through the ether, the first thing he shouted was:

"I haven't retired. I'll be back in the saddle in two months."

And so it goes.

Of course, bicycle racing is far from being a proper sport, especially the six-day variety. It is a spectacle, not a sport; but as such it draws sufficient spectators to keep itself alive financially. Bike-racing devotees are for the most part an ignorant lot. They like the whirl of the pack around the steep, shining bowl and the informalities permitted the spectators.

However, as the lady said at the museum, they know what they like, and apparently a lot of them like it, judging by the following "hand-out" from one of bicycling's press agents:

"Bicycle racing enjoyed one of its greatest years in 1924 in point of racing competition and attendance at the bicycle tracks in Newark, New York, Boston, Providence, Worcester and New Bedford, as well as at the six-day races in New York and Chicago. The amateur game flourished too, with road competition in practically every big city in the country. The outstanding feature of 1924 was the victory in the world's championship of Peter Moeskops, of Holland. The title was decided at Paris, France, and marked the fourth consecutive year that Moeskops won the world's title. Moeskops then came to America to ride and won sixteen out of nineteen match races against the best riders in America."

"Here in America, Arthur Spencer won the American sprint championship, the title held in 1923 by his brother Willie Spencer. George Chapman of Newark, won the motor-paced championship of America for the fourth straight time, while Paul Croley, a Brooklyn boy, who rides for the New Cresent Wheelmen won the amateur bicycle championship of America. Charley Winter, another New York youngster, won the amateur road championship, while Dick Schneider, of the Bay View Wheelmen, of Newark took the all-around amateur title."

IS YOUR WORK HARD?

Many Rushville Folks Have Found How to Make Work Easier

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back?
Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn?
There is no peace from that dull ache.
No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.
Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Rushville people recommend Doan's.

Orville Gilbert, shoe repairer, 639 W. Ninth St., Rushville, says: "Kidney trouble came on through heavy work. Mornings I was mighty lame and stiff and when I stooped, sharp catches took me across my kidneys. My back was so lame I had to stay home from work for a few days. My kidneys acted so frequently, I had to get up at night. Doan's Pills fixed me up and made me feel like my old self."

From School Teacher To Great Eminence

A young man who was brought up on a farm in Western Pennsylvania studied diligently and qualified for a school teacher. Further pursuing his studies and teaching, he managed to save up enough money to put him thru medical college. After the Civil War, he began the practice of medicine in the new oil section of Pa., and often rode horse-back thru the woods to reach and relieve those who were seriously ill. He was a student of nature, knew and could easily recognize most of the medicinal plants growing in the woods. Later, he moved to Buffalo, N.Y., where he launched his favorite remedies, and, in a short time, they were sold by every druggist in the land. Today, the name of this man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, is known throughout the world. His Golden Medical Discovery is the best known blood medicine and tonic. More than fifty million bottles have been sold in the U. S. If your druggist does not sell the Golden Medical Discovery, in liquid or tablets, you can obtain a trial pkg. of the tablets by sending 50c to the Dr. Pierce Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

1924 WAS NOTABLE IN HISTORY OF U. S.

FURTHER TAX REDUCTION

Tax Bill Probably Was Outstanding Piece of Legislation Enacted by Congress

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 5.—Of many epochs it is said that they "came in like a lion and went out like a lamb" but history records few that are more faithfully so characterized than the political and legislative year 1924.

The year dawned with a sensational series of revelations of alleged graft and corruption in the federal government that shook the nation. It is going out with the investigation of a vague memory, a conservative President in the White House and the Secretary of the Treasury harking back to the days of '96.

The Senate investigations and the return of President Coolidge to the White House for four years in a three-cornered election were unquestionably the outstanding political events of the year. The fields of legislative and executive accomplishment were marked by further tax reduction and another slice from the public debt.

Congress was in session from the beginning of January to the 7th of June, mainly engrossed with the investigations, with feverish assaults on cabinet officers with reducing taxes, passing the bonus, enacting restrictive legislation against Japanese and generally keeping the country in a turmoil. It returned on December 3, a chastened body, the insurgent Republicans largely defeated, with an enunciated legislative program, designed only to keep it busy until its constitutional demise on March 4 next.

No sooner was Congress adjourned for the summer than the quadrennial Presidential was ushered in with a bang. Less than a week after adjournment, Calvin Coolidge, of Vermont, was acclaimed the nominee of the Republican party.

The Democrats, intent upon capitalizing the unrest and discontent incident to the revelations of official corruption under the Republican administration, went into convention in New York early in July, full of hope.

They emerged 10 days later, after 103 ballots in the most turbulent political convention in history, torn and bleeding from bitter religious quarrels and factional disputes between Governor Al Smith of New York and William G. McAdoo, with a candidate of sterling worth, according to his political foes as well as his friends—John W. Davis of West Virginia—but with a party divided and scant chance of coming through the victors. Governor Charles Bryan of Nebraska was the Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee.

Meanwhile, Senator Robert M.

Obenchain Weds Again

"The one man in a million" has married again. Ralph H. Obenchain, who won that "title" because of the defense of his divorced wife, Madeline Obenchain, in her three trials for the murder of J. Edgar Kennedy in Los Angeles a few years ago, has married Miss Mabel Schmitt, 21, of Evanston, Ill. Obenchain is a lawyer and theater manager of Evanston.

LaFollette laid plans for his own campaign. On July 4, at Cleveland, at a convention of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, LaFollette was formally acclaimed the leader of American independence and launched himself on the ocean of Presidential politics, with Senator Wheeler of Montana, his second-place man. The American Federation of Labor endorsed the ticket.

The upshot of the first three-cornered campaign in 12 years was a sweeping victory for Coolidge, who obtained 382 electoral votes, Davis 136, and LaFollette 13. Coolidge's popular vote approximated 17,500,000, Davis vote, 7,500,000 and LaFollette's 4,500,000.

The Congressional situation throughout the year was dominated by the LaFollette progressive group which held the balance of power between the two evenly divided old parties. Throughout the six months of the year that the legislature sat, they were the commanding figures.

They tied up organization of the House while they demanded and got a liberalization of the rigid rules of the House. They extended their

BILL PROVIDES FOR STATE CONSTABULARY

BANKERS SPONSORING MOVE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5.—The proposed bill providing for an Indiana state constabulary is ready for presentation early in the coming session of the state legislature, Felix McWhirter, representing the power to include sitting in judgment on the measures sponsored by the administration, and, in alliance with the Democrats dictating changes.

The two big investigations of the year were the Teapot Dome inquiry and the Daugherty probe. The former resulted in the elimination of Secretary of the Navy Denby by resignation and his replacement by Curtis Dwight Wilbur of California, and the enforced withdrawal from the cabinet of Attorney-General Daugherty, who was succeeded by Harlan Fiske Stone of New York.

Other investigations undertaken during the hectic spring included those of the Internal Revenue Bureau, which drew a protest from President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon; of the Veterans' Bureau, diploma mills, Texas land frauds, election of Senator Mayfield of Texas, Russian propaganda, the Bok peace award, Shipping Board, aircraft, charges against members of the House, campaign expenditures and other minor probes.

The tax bill probably was the outstanding piece of legislation enacted, even overshadowing its companion piece, the soldiers' bonus bill which finally went through providing insurance policies for veterans. Secretary Mellon recommended sharp downward revision of the surtax rates to stimulate revenue producing investment and head off the flight of capital into tax-exempt securities which states and municipalities continued to issue at the rate of $1,000,000,000 a year, despite criticism by federal officials.

No active steps to change America's foreign policies were taken during the year. The Senate refused to act on the Harding-Hughes world court urged by President Coolidge and its major activity in foreign fields was ratifying a series of rum treaties negotiated by Secretary Hughes with maritime nations to facilitate the American war against rum runners.

The Treasury Department continued to shave the public debt and place the short-term issues on a sounder basis. Nearly 1 billion dollars was cut from the debt, with resultant cuts in interest requirements. A huge issue of 30 year four percent bonds was put on the market at the end of the year, $200,000,000 worth being sold for cash, and another $1,000,000,000 being issued in exchange for Third Liberty bonds and other maturing issues.
